DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to amendment/reconsideration filed 05/18/05, Examiner notes that no claims were amended or added. Claims 1-7 are pending for examination. The rejection cited are as stated below.
2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code § 102 (e) and 103 (a) not included in this action can be found in a prior Office Action.
3. Claims 1-2 and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) as being anticipated by Gershman et al (US. 6,401,085).
4. Claims 3-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 (a) as being unpatentable over Gershman et al (US. 6,401,085).
5. Gershman have been cited as prior arts in the last office action. The teachings that applicable are respectfully maintained and incorporated by reference as set forth in the last office action.
6. Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In the remarks, applicant argued in substance that the prior art does not teach receiving data from user through a base system interface. Examiner disagreed, Gershman clearly stated that user interface is customized based on user profile, stored in central profile database. This passage clearly taught receiving data from a user and storing the data associated with the user. Further, (col. 60, lines 63-65), Gershman teaches electronic valet, i.e., interface, for receiving user input data.

Furthermore, in response to applicant challenged Judicial Notice and no motivation to combine well-known concept with the applied reference. Examine cited an article "Any Network, Any Terminal, Anywhere" by Fasbender et al., published in IEEE Personal

Art Unit: 2143

Communications, April 1999, for evident of the well-known assertion. As one can see, the title of this article alone, could have motivated an ordinary skilled in the art to combine or include the teaching of using the well known HTTP and WAP protocols for wireless communications with Gershman. Further motivation and teaching that support the well-known assertion could be found throughout Fasbender's teaching (page. 22-30).

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

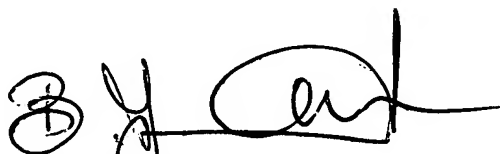

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
